

Increasing awareness of non-communicable diseases, their risk factors and strategies to prevent them among the population of Samoa through the development and diffusion of a documentary film; the setting up of two pilot primary school kitchen gardens; and the productions of a short television cook show series demonstrating how to cook with selected wild and semi-wild foods currently not commonly consumed in Samoa.

<https://www.creativesamoa.com/>